

Shaunti feldhahn

Research. Insight. Hope...

that transforms lives
and relationships at home and in the workplace.

Shaunti.com

Shaunti Feldhahn received her graduate degree from Harvard University and was an analyst on Wall Street before unexpectedly becoming a social researcher, best-selling author, and popular speaker.

Today, she applies her analytical skills to investigating eye-opening, life-changing truths about relationships, both at home and in the workplace. Her groundbreaking research-based books, such as For Women Only, have sold more than 2 million copies in 23 languages; her books and DVD studies are popular in homes, counseling centers, and corporations worldwide.

Shaunti (often with her husband, Jeff) speaks at 50+ events each year around the world, sharing her findings with a wide range of audiences such as churches, corporate conventions, women's conferences, universities, arena events, marriage seminars, youth camps and cruises (yes, those are particularly painful...). Her research and commentary are regularly featured in media as diverse as The Today Show, Focus on the Family, The New York Times and MomLife Today. Shaunti, Jeff, and their two children live in Atlanta and enjoy every minute of living life at warp speed.

Shaunti & Jeff
also speak together!

Catch the Buzz from Shaunti's Events!

"We gave a book to every woman in our congregation for a special event. I interviewed Shaunti during all our worship services. The response was incredible. I urge churches and other groups to give her the opportunity to share this message."

—Andy Stanley, Senior Pastor, North Point Community Church, Alpharetta, GA

"Shaunti was a delightful addition to our Women's Retreat. The ladies absolutely loved her. She was smart, articulate, funny, real, honest, and likeable."

—Becky Davis, Trinity Fellowship Church, Glorieta, NM

"Do not underestimate the importance of Shaunti's research. It changes everything."

—Gary Chapman, author of *The Five Love Languages

"My husband and I were considering divorce (after 10 years). My husband and I have reconciled and are now willing to work on our relationship. One married friend purchased the book and read it within one day then passed it on to another friend! It's spreading like wild fire!"

—An attendee at a women's conference

For more information, see Shaunti.com/speaking.

Simple Surprises That Transform... And Make A Great Event.

Shaunti Feldhahn's events are known for "aha moments," gasps of surprise, lots of laughs, personal conviction, immediately practical application, and a transformational impact. Based on years of research and thousands of interviews and surveys, Shaunti reveals the simple truths that make a big difference in life and relationships in these areas: (See Shaunti.com/speaking for more information.)

Men, Women, Marriage and Relationships

Shaunti and Jeff's talks to those married, dating, or single include: The secret inner needs of men and women (such as the hidden self-doubt that makes "thank you" so powerful to him, and the need she has to hear "we're okay" in a conflict), and the surprising little habits that create happy relationships. Also, the shocking truths about marriage that everyone needs to know, which debunk discouraging myths (hint: the divorce rate has never been close to 50%).

Parenting and Youth

Learn what children are longing for parents to understand. For teens, discover the key surprises about the opposite sex that they want and need to know...and which will save their marriages in advance.

Thriving as a Biblical Woman in a Do-It-All World

Based on Shaunti's popular bible study, what is the biblical blueprint for life balance and peace instead of stress? And how we can be trusting women who echo Mary's words, "May it be to me as you have said."

Leadership / Workplace

For leadership networks and corporations: the unspoken expectations of men and women, and how to increase influence and make drama disappear. For pastors and ministry groups: how to show your people that church attendance/active faith does matter in marriage and life.

Whether you know exactly what your event will look like, or want help thinking through the perfect event format for you, my team members and I look forward to speaking with you!

Faith-based / Personal-relationships market:
Naomi Duncan | 615-300-4837 | NDuncan@shaunti.com

General Business Market:
Melinda Weedon | 407-705-3460 | MWeedon@HFRGroup.com

www.Shaunti.com/speaking

Current and Past Events and Clients

